

is held by regiments recruited from the Hapsburg-hating peasants of certain districts. The troops are being given stringent orders to prevent the passage of Charles's train and as a precaution the rails were torn up.

Charles apparently gained some ground as the troops at Komorn, who according to previous report, had turned back his train, are now said to have sworn allegiance to him. Former Emperor Charles is believed to be in the city, but is suffering from a cold, which she acquired during her airplane trip.

Apparent Calm in Budapest

The Cabinet, after notifying the Allies of its decision to oppose the restoration of Charles, remained in continuous session, devising means of action. The ministers representing the agricultural element asked for the arrest of the former king.

Archduke Friedrich, who was here for two days with his mother, Isabella, is said to have had ambitious plans for himself and is greatly embarrassed by the sudden and unwelcome return of his relative.

The Bethlen Cabinet claims to be master of the situation, and there is apparent calm in Budapest.

Martial law has been proclaimed throughout Hungary, and Admiral Horthy, the Regent, has issued a manifesto to the country to keep order. He calls upon the people to "restrain the roving and plundering hordes who are plunging Hungary into inevitable and final catastrophe."

The Cabinet Council has resolved to fight the "conspirators" and lines have now been sharply drawn between the government and the monarchists rallying around the former.

Oedenburg Garrison Deserts

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Reuter's Vienna correspondent reports the news that Charles has already entered Budapest. He adds that the whole Oedenburg garrison left that town to join Charles, only 500 gendarmes remaining behind. The former king's forces are estimated at three divisions, while Admiral Horthy's are about equal in number.

Reuter's Budapest correspondent says it is generally expected that Admiral Horthy this morning visited the troops who had stopped Colonel Oostenburg's forces, which are supposed to have been inspected by the desecrating and offensive monarchists.

A Vienna dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that Charles's advance guard was repulsed this morning by Horthy's troops in the vicinity of Budorf.

Workers to Aid Government

The Hungarian Legation here has received an official telegram from Budapest, dated this morning, announcing the Entente's protest against the return of Charles, and that the Hungarian government had replied that it was taking every step to induce him to leave the country. It is declared that the Hungarian government has sufficient forces to prevent the entry of the former king into the capital.

The Hungarian government has entrusted to the Minister of Education the task of expelling Charles from Hungary immediately, says a Reuter dispatch from Budapest. Premier Bethlen today received a large delegation of Social-Democratic workers, who assured him of the support of the workers against the restoration of the ex-king.

Renner Blames Allies For Coup by Charles

Former Austrian Chancellor Assails Officials Knew of Plots; Assails "Unofficial Intrigues"

By Wireless to The Tribune

Berlin, Oct. 23.—Dr. Renner, former Austrian Chancellor, who is in Berlin, told the Tribune correspondent today he thought that the Allies were to blame for Charles's coup d'etat in Hungary. He said that the peace of the whole of Central Europe was menaced by "unofficial intrigues" and certain British and French circles and official intrigues in certain Italian circles in Budapest.

Dr. Renner said that the population of Austria, and particularly of Vienna, was prepared to go to war to prevent a restoration of the monarchy in their country. Analyzing the situation, Dr. Renner said:

"There is certainly a large number of Karlists among the troops in Hungary, as well as among the desperadoes in Burgenland, where Charles went from Switzerland. With these around him he has marched to his goal at Budapest almost unopposed militarily, but that doesn't mean that the country is ready to take him back in place of Admiral Horthy. The small number of proprietors of Hungary are decidedly against a restoration of the monarchy, but this class or the population has no voice in the political life."

"Jugo-Slavia and Czechoslovakia cannot remain passive in the face of this new danger. The Little Entente must resist the restoration of the Hapsburgs in Hungary most energetically."

Discussing his reasons for putting the responsibility for Charles's success on the Allies, Dr. Renner said:

"These intrigues were hatched in Budapest and in Burgenland. The Allies had officials there who knew about these plots, but made no effort to break them up. Now, when it is too late, the Allies have raised their voice in protest."

Charles Says League Will Protect His Right to Rule

GENEVA, Oct. 23 (By The Associated Press).—Ex-Empress Charles, speaking with an Austrian aristocrat recently, said, according to "The Geneva Journal": "Had I been willing to sacrifice human lives on my last trip to Steinsammler I would be on the Hungarian throne to-day. I shall return to my country, but I shall not, but only, the protection of the League of Nations, which will respect the rights of peoples to dispose of themselves. And the Magyars demand the return of their king."

"Nobody did anything against the Greeks when they recalled their king. Bona, like Venizelos, cannot prevent the course of history."

Homes of Monarchists In Vienna Are Searched

VIENNA, Oct. 23.—The residences of well known monarchists in Vienna are being searched, but it is said no evidence has been found indicating preparedness for the present attempt to restore the monarchy.

The city was quiet today, but the streets were patrolled by troops and the garrison was under arms.

Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria returned to his home Friday.

Church Jubilee at Yonkers

Archbishop Hayes Attends 50th Anniversary Services

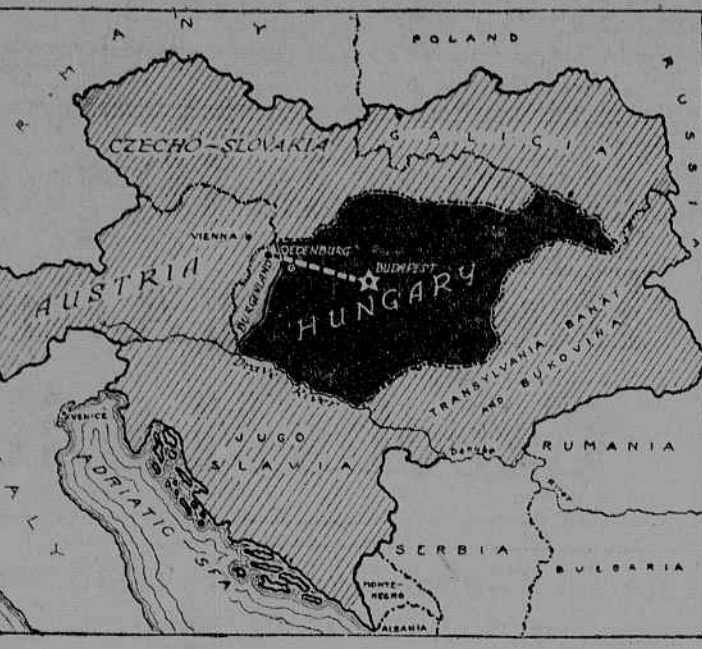

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes and several prominent Catholic clergymen participated in the celebration to-day of the fiftieth anniversary of St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Ashburton Avenue.

Monsignor Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, delivered the sermon, in which he recounted the history of St. Joseph's parish, which was founded by the Rev. Dean Albert Linn.

A delegation of the Knights of Columbus escorted Archbishop Hayes in the procession from the church to the rectory. During the afternoon the archbishop laid the cornerstone of a new monastery for the Sacramentine Sisters in Park Avenue.

The shading indicates the extent of Austria-Hungary before the war, the black area marking Hungary, where Charles is now trying to regain control. The dotted line shows his line of march from Oedenburg, which he reached from Switzerland by airplane, to Budapest.

French Troops Deputy Marx Overawe Reds Decrying U. S. New Ministry

PARIS, Oct. 23 (By The Associated Press).—American military police, long two of them on guard near the American Embassy and others were stationed at the passport bureau.

The Italian Embassy also was heavily guarded during the night. French soldiers were kept in session throughout the day, but the judges had little to do, as only six arrests were made.

Police say they have the situation under control insofar as a wholesale demonstration is concerned.

On the morning of the explosion of the bomb in his home here last week, Mr. Herriek, the American Ambassador, took out an accident insurance policy for the employees, and also against damage to his residence. Mr. Herriek, under his contract, must make good to the Duc de Broglie the $5,000 damage which was done to the house and furniture.

No London Demonstration

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A Sacco-Vanzetti demonstration outside the American Embassy here today failed to materialize. There was a small Communist gathering in Whitechapel, however, at which speakers were delivered by Sylvia Pankhurst and other persons who protested against the conviction of the Italians. Rain dampened the enthusiasm of the demonstrators and the procession marched to the American Embassy was abandoned.

MARSEILLES, Oct. 23 (By The Associated Press).—A grenade which failed to explode, thrown among the police here today while efforts were being made to organize a procession for a march on the American Consulate by protest against the conviction for murder of Sacco and Vanzetti. The grenade was thrown immediately after a Sacco-Vanzetti protest meeting. The police prevented the procession and arrested seventeen persons during the disorders.

Frenzied Dog Bites 11 In Coney Island Crowd

Police Reserves Unable to Find Animal and Another Outbreak Today Is Feared

A fox terrier with foam on its muzzle, which snarled and lunged at it, met ran through Mermaid Avenue, Coney Island about 11 o'clock last night, when that thoroughfare was crowded with people going home from motion picture shows and other resorts.

Nine persons were bitten by the animal and it is still at large although the reserves from Coney Island police station passed the rest of the night hunting it. They fear it will emerge from its hiding place this morning and cause another panic.

Mac Collier, of 2547 Forty-fifth Street, Brooklyn, was the first victim. He ran to a police booth at Twenty-ninth Street and the patrolman on duty there called the reserves. By the time they reached the scene, the dog had vanished and the street was almost empty of pedestrians.

Among those bitten beside Collier are: Hyman Pollack, Neptune Avenue, Sea Gate, bitten on the leg; Mary Callaghan, Forty-second Street and Atlantic Avenue, bitten on right leg; Harry Bergman, 2829 Twenty-fourth Street, bitten on right leg; Mrs. Mary Moskowitz, bitten on left leg; Joseph Ebenfeld, 287 West Twenty-fifth Street, bitten on leg; Morris Schiff, Laurel Avenue, Sea Gate, bitten on left leg.

Lisbon Troops to Keep "Order at All Costs"

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 23.—Military forces are patrolling the suburbs with orders to disarm all civilians and maintain order at all costs. A government note reported that several scores of revolutionists as made victims of Premier Granjo and others, and announced that the government will proceed with investigations so as to be able to punish those who took advantage of Wednesday's movement to commit acts of personal vengeance.

50 Weight Reducers Hike Walk From Madison Square to Central Park and Back

Fifty women who are exercising in the hope of reducing their weight under the direction of Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, walked up Madison Avenue from Madison Square Garden yesterday afternoon to Central Park.

By that time they were so kitchin that policemen in the park had the most difficulty in preventing them from climbing trees. They finally walked back to the Garden.

Commissioner Copeland said that they were going through their exercises in fine style, and he was sure he could put them all on exhibition at the Public Health Exposition which is to start November 14.

Hearst-Hylan Plan Doubled Boston Fares

lan actually imagined he could get away with a deal with Shonts, thereby, in return for concessions on the part of the I-berborough Rapid Transit Company, the company's agreement to raise in this city from five cents to seven cents.

"Mr. Hylan and Mr. Shonts had their first secret meeting with Mr. MacFarland, August, 1918, according to the testimony. At that time when Mayor Hylan told the traction magnate that Mr. MacFarland would help him get a seven-cent carfare, those seven-cent fares were already a fact in Boston, due to the assistance of this same MacFarland and his mighty patron, Mr. Hearst.

Now, where does Mr. Hylan stand with this deal? Is it a fact or a farce? We know that he has no consideration whatever for our people's sufferings from the subway service. His daily jaunts about town in an upholstered make it impossible for him to understand what it is to be a strap-hanger jammed and huddled in a suffocating subway car. Now we understand the whole hypocrisy of his position. He is a fare-waiver. At Mr. Hearst's bidding he was willing to barter it away in order to put over with the companies a scheme of his own."

Curran Puts City Welfare First in Church Speeches

Social Service Has Been Great Achievement in Government, He Tells Gatherings

Borough President Henry H. Curran, Republican-coalition candidate for Mayor, spoke last night at Grace Methodist Church, in West 104th Street, and at Chelsea Methodist Church, in East 14th Street, where he has been elected, it is understood by members of his church.

Before opening his sermon to-day Dr. Stetson called the attention of the congregation to newspaper reports of his election to Trinity. He said:

"Because of articles that have appeared in the press I feel that it is necessary to explain to you that while it is true I have been elected to Trinity, I have received no formal notice of the election. It is obviously impossible for me to make any statement at this time, but I want you to understand as members of our church family that whatever is done will not be done hastily. I expect to have an announcement to make next Saturday after I have been visited by a committee from Trinity Church."

It was said by close friends of Dr. Stetson that if he should be asked to fix a date for going to Trinity it would most likely be about January 1.

Cuba Plans to Cut Budget Economy Program Expected to Make Loan Feasible

HAVANA, Oct. 23.—Methods of reducing government expenses for the current fiscal year from $64,000,000, the amount authorized in the budget legislation just enacted by Congress, to approximately $55,000,000 will be decided upon at a meeting Monday, between President Alfredo Zayas and his Cabinet, it was learned last night after the regular weekly Cabinet council had concluded its discussions.

The President, outlining the loan situation, said there had been no halt in the negotiations for either the $5,000,000 for immediate pressing necessities, or the proposed $50,000,000 credit.

The economy program which the President expects to put into effect this week, together with co-operation of Congress in enacting needed laws, is expected to remove the last obstacle to floating the loan.

Expected Allied Leniency

BERLIN, Oct. 23 (By The Associated Press).—In his letter informing President Ebert of the resignation of the Cabinet, Chancellor Wirth said the ministry had assumed responsibility for carrying out the ultimatum of the Allies as a great moment and that for five months it had continued political affairs, animated by a desire to regulate the situation between the German Empire and the Allies and to restore Europe by a fulfillment of the treaty obligations.

The Cabinet, the letter added, had met the heavy demands made upon the German people, particularly as regards the payment of the 1,000,000,000 gold marks on October 31, and had received Allied acknowledgment of the fulfillment of its obligations in the matter of disarmament, which was effected in the face of great difficulties.

"It is what we expected," says the letter, "that in view of German efforts and an earnest desire to fulfill the treaty obligations, the occupation of the Ruhr would have ceased as regards Upper Silesia."

German Towns Taken

"Instead, there has been a decree by which not only extensive tracts of Upper Silesia, but also flourishing German towns and the greater portion of the internal wealth and four-fifths of the population will be torn from the German homeland. Moreover, a great part of the population which falls to Poland is of German origin and German-speaking and, despite the right of self-determination and the unequivocal result of the plebiscite, will be subjected to foreign domination."

"Never can the German people forget this loss which has been inflicted through the defenseless trust placed in the promises of the Allies, and that only sincere efforts to fulfill all parts of the agreement can render possible the political and economic restoration of Europe, it is convinced that the limits of German capacity and possibility of fulfillment have been materially reduced by the Silesian decree and that a new situation, therefore, has arisen for Germany."

"In view of these facts the Cabinet has decided to relinquish office."

Turks' Line Smashed Between Angora and Sakaria River

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A dispatch to "The London Times" from Smyrna dated Saturday says that at the time of the firing of the dispatch the town of Afun-Karahisar was burning and had been partly destroyed.

The dispatch adds that the Turks made desperate efforts to reconstruct the line between Angora and the Sakaria River. They crossed the Menander River, southeast of Tavris, but were attacked by the Greeks and compelled to recross the stream.

Girls Vote Sport News Above Women's Pages

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 23.—Newspaper sporting pages attract more of the young women students at Radcliffe College than the women's pages.

Ninety-six per cent of the 600 students at the college have been found, by a census just completed, to be regular readers of the newspapers, but only four claimed the women's pages as their favorite department. Fourteen played the sporting pages first.

Twenty-five per cent of the girls expressed a preference for the editorial pages, 23 per cent said the general news of the day interested them most, and 38 per cent said they usually were satisfied with the headlines.

Dr. Stetson May Come to Trinity About Jan. 1

Tells Washington Congregation He Expects Notification Committee Visit This Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The Rev. C. Rochford Stetson, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church of Washington, will accept the rectorship of Trinity Church, New York, to which he has been elected, it is understood by members of his church.

Before opening his sermon to-day Dr. Stetson called the attention of the congregation to newspaper reports of his election to Trinity. He said:

Marshall Assigns League Of Nations to Oblivion

"Schoolboy's Dream of Hour" Is Dead, He Says, Asking Audience to Live by Bible

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Calling the League of Nations a "schoolboy's dream of an hour," but nevertheless a "great ideal," Thomas Riley Marshall, former Vice-President, addressed a gathering at the First Presbyterian Church in Evanston to-day.

"That I was a sincere protagonist of the League of Nations you all know," said Mr. Marshall. "But I have some enough to admit that the league now has gone glimmering into oblivion."

The United States was founded not on the Declaration of Independence, but on the Constitution, but on the idea that God was supreme. Mr. Marshall said, adding that the Republic would fail unless its citizens lived by the Bible.

"Consider the Constitution of Mexico, which appears to be as great a constitution as ours," the former Vice-President continued. "Yet the republic of Mexico, as I see it, is nothing but a shadow, because it is not backed by the spirit of God instilled into the hearts of its people."

Nicaragua to Continue Martial Law Along Honduran Border

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Oct. 23.—The government yesterday issued a proclamation declaring martial law to continue throughout the entire country for another sixty-days and proclaiming that a state of war exists in five northwestern departments, three of which border Honduras.

Government officials have information that after the present small attacks across the Honduran boundary have subsided, a large and serious revolutionary movement is planned for November. Financial measures to meet the military situation are being arranged, and 1,500 troops are now in the field, mostly along the Honduran border, to repel the movements.

Senate to Begin Inquiry Into Mingo Coal Field Riots To-day

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—An array of witnesses who are expected to divulge all vital details of the recent West Virginia mining disorders will begin their stories to-morrow before the Senate Labor Committee, which resumes its inquiry into the industrial conflict. The schedule calls for six days of hearings, to-morrow and Tuesday for labor witnesses, the next two days for coal operators' witnesses and the last two for witnesses summoned independently by the committee.

Officers of the United Mine Workers and eye-witnesses to bloody conflicts of the Mingo fields are expected to-morrow for the union side. The operators also have arranged to present numerous witnesses.

If There Is a Blasphemous Offense, It Is in Keeping People Ignorant by Denying Education, Reiland Says

Rector of St. George's Urges Curran's Election to End "Miasma of Malfecance"

The Rev. Dr. Karl Reiland, rector of St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, in a sermon yesterday denouncing the policy of the present city administration with regard to public schools, said in support of Henry H. Curran, Republican-coalition candidate for the mayoralty:

"If there is a blasphemous crime, a bloodless crime, which, because of its subtlety escapes the due penalty, it is the crime of keeping people ignorant and neglecting to give them the elements of a common school education."

"I leave to others the task of estimating at its decadent and costly valuation the present political regime. The four years of board meeting confusion, successive authorized inquiries with their disheartening revelations and the general miasma of malfecance in places of privilege assist in constituting the general epidemic of utter disgust which is to-day the experience of many of us."

"I feel that the hope of the present situation is in the possibility of an entire change and in the election of the coalition candidates. I know Mr. Curran personally, naturally, as I am his rector. So strongly do I desire his leadership of character and capability in our tangled and distressed city affairs that I have ventured to make this statement in behalf, not of Mr. Curran, but of ourselves."

"The coming election is of very great importance to the entire city of New York. Many who have the vote do not know how to use it, and are regularly induced to follow the dictates of a controlled party rather than their own best judgment as to character and principle."

"We are under the necessity of arousing honest, clean and dutiful instincts in the hearts and minds of the mass of our voters, and unless this is done, our city government will not rise above the pitifully inadequate and disappointing level of these times."

"The destruction of the poor is their poverty. They are deceived, neglected, browbeaten, exploited. They are kept in ignorance, moved by fear, influenced by trickery and treated as a necessary evil. The cost of dishonest government directly increases the burdens of the poor and affords it. The least official attention is given to those who sorely need the most."

Democratic Break May Give Republicans Virginia

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 23.—A serious break in the ranks of the Democratic party in Virginia is threatened and politicians say it may throw a tremendous vote to Henry W. Anderson, Republican candidate for Governor.

State Senator Lee Trinkle opposed Harry St. George Tucker for the Democratic nomination, which was decided in Trinkle's favor in the August primary. Tucker's friends charge Trinkle with having sold out to the Republicans, which is overwhelmingly Republican, and urged non-Democrats to vote against Tucker, telling them they could vote for whom they pleased in the general election in November.

Trinkle carried the 9th District by more than 12,000 majority, and it was openly charged that Republicans voted in the primary. Now Republicans are turning to Anderson almost to a man and are using the argument Trinkle supporters used in the primary against Tucker, to pull away supporters of the unsuccessful Democratic nominee to the Anderson banner.

In Norfolk there is every indication that Anderson and the entire Republican ticket will get the largest vote ever given nominees of that party.

Richmond also is showing strong sentiment for Anderson, and in four districts the result is so close it would not be surprising if the Republicans obtained a majority. The 8th District, which gave Trinkle such a big majority in the primary, will return an even greater majority for Anderson, it is claimed.

The 11th is the home district of Congressman Bascom Camp, the only Republican in the Virginia delegation in Washington.

"Never before in the history of the country have the inducements to saving been greater than at present. Government bonds yield from 5 to 5.8%; foreign nations of foremost standing borrow at 8%, and our own industries pay from 6.5 to 8%. He who has a dollar to lend today can set upon it almost his own price."

THE unusual opportunities for investment will not last indefinitely. Since the above paragraph appeared in a New York newspaper editorial several months ago the level of bond prices has already begun to advance, with a corresponding decrease in yield.

But you, with money to invest, may feel the need of experienced advice in taking advantage of your opportunity. You may wish to consult with someone who knows bonds as you know your own business; who can tell you the difference between the various kinds of bonds, explain their security and interest yield and help you select the bonds best suited to your individual circumstances.

If you will come to the BOND DEPARTMENT of the office of THE EQUITABLE most convenient to you, the officers will gladly be your investment counsellors. They will select high-grade bonds which this bank itself has purchased only after the most thorough and careful investigation. And they will help you choose the bonds which you ought to buy.
